A close-up photograph of a violin's scroll and neck. The scroll is a dark, polished wood with a prominent grain. The neck is wrapped in black material, possibly leather or a synthetic equivalent. The body of the violin is a light-colored wood, possibly maple or birch, with a smooth finish. The image is split vertically down the middle. The left side shows the scroll and neck, while the right side shows the body of the violin. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the textures and colors of the materials.

A close-up photograph of a wooden cabinet or chest of drawers. The wood is a rich, warm brown with a visible grain. Two ornate, polished metal handles are visible, each featuring a stylized, swirling design. The handles are mounted on the cabinet doors. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the wood and the sheen of the metal. The image is split vertically, with the left side showing the cabinet and the right side showing a plain, light-colored background.

*Perla
Nera*

A decorative interior scene featuring a white vanity with gold accents, a mirror, and a chandelier. The vanity is a classic French-style piece with a white finish and gold leaf detailing. It has a curved front, a marble top with a sink and gold faucet, and three drawers with gold handles. The mirror above it has a white frame with a gold leaf pattern. A chandelier with crystal droplets hangs from the ceiling. The background is a white paneled wall, and the floor is white marble. A small green plant is visible on the left, and a white floral arrangement is on the right.
